142,50 €

Les articles publiés dans ce volume constituent la version écrite des communications présentées durant le colloque international «Administrations et pratiques comptables au Proche-Orient ancien», qui s'est déroulé à Louvain-la-Neuve les 21 et 22 février 2019.

Différents aspects de l'étude des administrations et des pratiques comptables au Proche-Orient ancien, selon une approche pluri-disciplinaire, constituent le point focal de ce colloque.

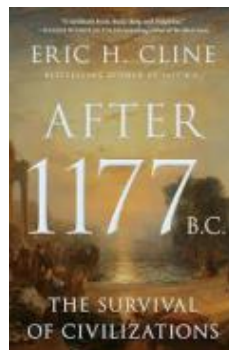

Aeolic and Aeolians : Origins of an Ancient Greek Language and its Community of Speakers

Woodard, Roger D.
1. ed.
Cambridge University Press, 2024
450 p. ; 25x17 cm.
9781009424400
166,89 €

This book explores the origin of an ancient Greek language and the beginnings and evolution of the community of its speakers – the Aeolians. Roger Woodard argues that the starting point for both is situated in Asia Minor during the period of the Late Bronze Age, and that the ancestral Aeolic speech community can be identified with the Mycenaean peoples of Anatolia called the Ahhiyawans in Hittite records.

After 1177 B.C. : The Survival of Civilizations

Cline, Eric H.
1. ed.
Princeton University Press, 2024
352 p. ; 23x15 cm.
9780691192130
38,94 €

At the end of the acclaimed history 1177 B.C., many of the Late Bronze Age civilizations of the Aegean and Eastern Mediterranean lay in ruins, undone by invasion, revolt, natural disasters, famine, and the demise of international trade. An interconnected world that had boasted major empires and societies, relative peace, robust commerce, and monumental architecture was lost and the so-called First Dark Age had begun. Now, in After 1177 B.C.

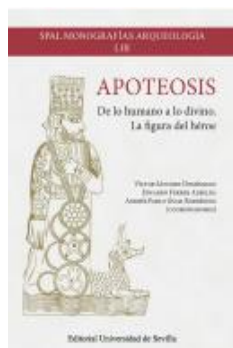

Alexandre le Grand en syriaque : Maître des lieux, des savoirs et des temps

La figure historique d'Alexandre et les légendes qui lui sont attachées n'ont cessé de susciter fascination et admiration, bien au-delà des frontières de la Méditerranée et de l'Europe. Les récits sur Alexandre, historiques et légendaires, sont bien connus, mais quels échos ce personnage a-t-il trouvés dans les régions mêmes où il avait été actif (Proche et Moyen- Orient, Asie centrale et Inde) ?

Corpus of Hieroglyphic Luwian Inscriptions, 3. Inscriptions of the Hittite Empire and New Inscriptions of the Iron Age

Hawkins, John David
1. ed.
Walter de Gruyter, 2024
924 p.
9783110770391
203,79 €

Luwian and the closely related Hittite are the oldest known languages of the Indo-European group. Luwian is written in two scripts: Cuneiform and its own Hieroglyphic, which survives mostly on stone monuments collected from Turkey and Syria. The texts fall into two main groups, those of the Hittite Empire (c. 1400–1200 B.C.), and those of the Iron Age (c. 1000–700 B.C.), with a transitional period (c. 1200–1000 B.C.).

Creating an Empire of Informers : Vigilance in the Assyrian Empire and King Esarhaddon's adê-Covenant of 672 BC

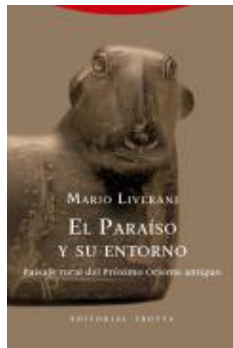

Tushingham, Poppy
1. ed.
Walter de Gruyter, 2024
(Vigilanzkulturen / Cultures of Vigilance ; 10)
297 p.
9783111323411
34,27 €

In 672 BC, Esarhaddon, King of Assyria, imposed a succession covenant (adê) on his subjects, the inhabitants of the Assyrian Empire. This covenant required the empire's population to monitor one another, and themselves, for signs of disloyalty to the monarch and his chosen successor, Ashurbanipal. This study examines the aims and outcomes, desired and undesired, of imposing this duty of vigilance across the Assyrian Empire.

El paraíso y su entorno : paisaje rural del Próximo Oriente antiguo

Liverani, Mario
1. ed.
Editorial Trotta, 2024
(Biblioteca de ciencias bíblicas y orientales)
224 p. ; 23x14 cm.
9788413642338
25,00 €

Cuando Europa comenzó a explorar el Próximo Oriente, las noticias sobre la región eran sumarias y hablaban sobre todo de un pasado legendario. Dos mitos en particular recogían los dos aspectos más llamativos del paisaje: la torre de Babel como metáfora de la ciudad y el jardín del Edén como metáfora del campo.

El proceso de edición de la Biblia hebrea y griega

Trebolle Barrera, Julio
1. ed.
Editorial Trotta, 2024
(Biblioteca de ciencias bíblicas y orientales)
480 p. ; 23x14 cm.
9788413642451
30,00 €

La edición de la Biblia hebrea que nos ha llegado no era la única existente. Los manuscritos del Mar Muerto y la investigación reciente sobre la Biblia griega revelan que los libros bíblicos circulaban en diferentes ediciones hasta que prevaleció la más reconocida en los años en torno al cambio de era. Este libro reconstruye el proceso de edición y traducción de la Biblia hebrea en las épocas helenística y romana.

1. ed.
Walter de Gruyter, 2024
938 p. ; 24x17 cm.
9783111332178
147,58 €

Carthage was one of antiquity's most successful cities. It was founded, destroyed, refounded, and conquered before falling into ruin; since the 20th century, it has once again become a city. Briefly the seat of a colonial archdiocese, it is now home to the Tunisia's presidential residence and is also a world cultural heritage site. This book traces this three-thousand-year history of settlement on the basis of extensive archaeological studies.

L'origine du fer et les peuples de la mer : Comment l'Orient méditerranéen a basculé dans l'Âge du Fer autour de 1200 avant notre ère

Reinmuth, Jean-Christophe
Jambon, Albert
1. ed.
L'Harmattan, 2024
(Historiques.Travaux)
288 p. ; 21x13 cm.
9782336448312
35,15 €

L'Orient méditerranéen subit des troubles majeurs au tournant du XIII^e et du XII^e siècles avant notre ère. Les palais mycéniens, l'empire hittite et de nombreuses cités-états disparaissent sous les coups de boutoir des Peuples de la Mer. Seuls les Égyptiens parviennent à les arrêter. Parmi ces peuples, les ancêtres des Grecs Doriens, des Italiques, des Arméniens et des Phrygiens semblent partager la maîtrise de la réduction du fer terrestre.

La Perse et les racines chrétiennes de l'Occident

Dans cette recherche, l'auteur avance une théorie nouvelle à son époque, cherchant à illustrer les influences multiples et croisées que les religions païennes de la Perse antique, le zoroastrisme, le mithraïsme, via le judaïsme, ont eues sur le christianisme à ses origines.

S'appuyant sur les études des exégètes du xix^e siècle et du début du xx^e siècle, tant anglo-saxonnes que françaises, Charles Autran cherche les indices lui permettant d'asseoir sa thèse.

Looking at Persians

Stuttard, David (ed.)
1. ed.
Bloomsbury, 2024
270 p. ; 21x13 cm.
9781350227965
40,32 €

This book examines how Aeschylus responded to such a turning point in Athenian history and how his audience may have reacted to his play. As well as considering the play's relationship with earlier lost tragedies and discussing its central themes, including war, nature and the value of human life, the volume considers how Persians may have been staged in fifth-century Athens and how it has been performed today.

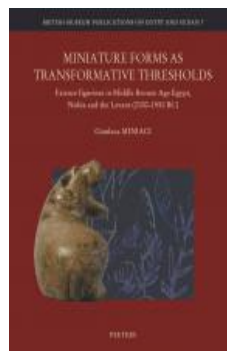

Material Culture of Mesopotamia and Beyond, 1. People and their Environment in First Millennium BCE Babylonia

101,46 €

This volume is dedicated to the material culture of Babylonia and its neighbouring regions as documented in cuneiform texts. It presents the results of research conducted in the framework of the Franco-Austrian collaborative project ANR-FWF Material Culture of Babylonia during the 1st millennium BC (MCB).

Miniature Forms as Transformative Thresholds : Faience Figurines in Middle Bronze Age Egypt, Nubia and the Levant (2100-1550 BC)

Miniaci, Gialuca
1. ed.
Peeters, 2023
(British Museum Publications on Egypt and Sudan ; 7)
739 p.
9789042936249
176,70 €

This volume analyses Middle Kingdom Egyptian figurines made in faience, a lustrous and intensely blue glaze paste, skilfully manufactured with a high degree of accuracy. They represent one of the most iconic and signature categories of artefacts in ancient Egypt. The research especially focuses on the manufacture, iconography and distribution (spatial and chronological) of this type of figurines.

New approaches on Anatolian linguistics

Research into furniture has been neglected by archaeologists. Fixed installations lack clear definitions and are often subjectively identified. These studies pay tribute to the late Jean-Claude Margueron, and consider furniture by exploring spatial perception, functionality, and architectural complexities.

La investigación sobre el mobiliario ha sido descuidada por los arqueólogos. Las instalaciones fijas carecen de definiciones claras y a menudo se identifican de forma subjetiva.

9780691240558
27,81 €

In the late 8th and early 7th centuries BCE, Scythian warriors conquered and unified most of the vast Eurasian continent, creating an innovative empire that would give birth to the age of philosophy and the Classical age across the ancient world—in the West, the Near East, India, and China.

The Temporality of Festivals : Approaches to Festive Time in Ancient Babylon, Greece, Rome, and Medieval China

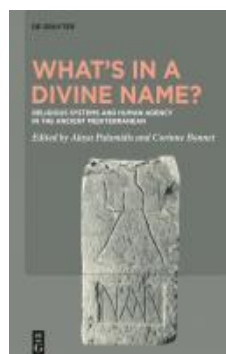

Walter, Anke
1. ed.
Walter de Gruyter, 2024
(Chronoi ; 10)
100 p.
9783111364865
34,27 €

How can time become festive? How do festivals manage to make time 'special', to mark out a certain day or days, to distinguish them from 'normal', everyday time, and to fill them with meaning? And how can we reconstruct what festive time looked like in the past and what people thought about it? While a lot of research has been done on festivals from the point of view of several scholarly disciplines, the specific temporality of festivals has not yet attracted sufficient attention.

Bonnet, Corinne (ed.)
1. ed.
Walter de Gruyter, 2024
895 p.
9783111326276
171,55 €

The volume collects 36 essays pertaining to many different contexts – Egypt, Anatolia, Levant, Mesopotamia, Greece, Rome – which address the multiple functions and wide scope of divine onomastics. Scrutinized in a diachronic and comparative perspective, divine names shed light on how polytheisms and monotheisms work as complex systems of divine and human agents embedded in an historical framework.
