La pintura mural, como elemento integrante de los programas decorativos de los espacios y edificios del mundo antiguo, constituye una fuente material de gran importancia para el estudio del pasado, y los datos que nos aporta están relacionados tanto con las dinámicas culturales y sociales como con las económicas.

Archaeological Perspectives on Burial Practices and Societal Change : Death in Transition

Norstein, Frida Espolin (ed.)
Selsvold, Irene (ed.)
1. ed.
Routledge, 2024
(Routledge Studies in Archaeology)
254 p.
9781032573458
192,21 €

Archaeological Perspectives on Burial Practices and Societal Change examines the relationships between burial practices and societal transformations in the past.

This book highlights the centrality of burials as archaeological material for the understanding of societal change. It critically reassesses past approaches, and suggests new ways of understanding the relationship between burial practice and change in archaeology.

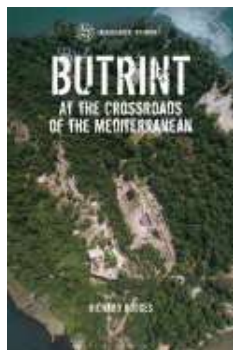

Archaeologies, Origins, Antiquities : narrating Early Cultural History in Ancient Greece and Rome

Bruno, Nicoletta (ed.)
1. ed.
Walter de Gruyter, 2025
(Beiträge zur Altertumskunde
; 421)
320 p.
9783119149839
125,79 €

This book examines the narratives of early cultural history in ancient Greece and Rome, spanning from a macrocosmic outlook to a microcosmic exploration of individual stories, familial dynamics, and societal contexts. The collection investigates the concepts of archaeologies, origins, and antiquities through a multifaceted approach, considering literary, rhetorical, philosophical, historical, and epigraphic viewpoints.

Butrint : at the Crossroads of the Mediterranean

Hodges, Richard
1. ed.
Bloomsbury, 2025
(Archaeological Histories)
216 p. ; 23x15 cm.
9781350548602
31,31 €

Focusing on the archaeology and history of Butrint in southern Albania, this book begins by looking at its foundation in the Bronze Age period through to the contemporary era, where it is now a popular tourist destination. Richard Hodges, who has excavated at the site for over thirty years and is a trustee of the Butrint Management Foundation, looks at the Mediterranean seaport and its changing landscape over the course of five thousand years.

Cent ans d'archéologie : de la rivalité à la coopération en péninsule Ibérique et au Maroc

Callegarin, Laurent (ed.)

Este libro repasa el desarrollo de la arqueología en la Península Ibérica y Marruecos a lo largo de cien años, en el contexto de las relaciones internacionales. Desde el último tercio del siglo XIX hasta el periodo posterior a la Segunda Guerra Mundial, los conflictos entre Francia y Alemania, así como el establecimiento de los protectorados francés y español en Marruecos, tuvieron un gran impacto en el desarrollo de estructuras arqueológicas en estos lugares.

Citizen Science in Southern European Archaeology

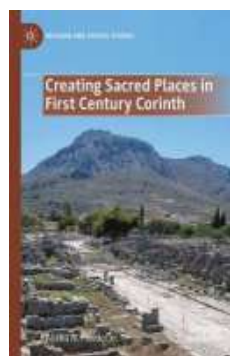

Bermejo Tirado, Jesús (ed.)
Sanna Montannelli, Mattia (ed.)
Giorri, Antonio (ed.)

Routledge, 2025
(Routledge Studies in Archaeology)
(Routledge Studies in Archaeology)
186 p.
9781032805313
206,45 €

This book presents a valuable exploration of the potential for citizen science in archaeology within southern Europe.

The examination of citizen science in archaeology has been heavily influenced by case studies and theories from Anglophone countries, where a distinctive policy and social framework exists. However, there is currently a notable absence of consideration on the subject in the Mediterranean context.

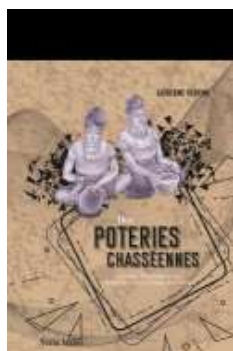

Creating sacred places in first century Corinth

Paddock, Alisha N.
1. ed.
Palgrave, 2025
(Religion and Spatial Studies)
xiii, 212 p.
9783031890130
139,79 €

This book applies spatial theories from human and cultural geography to the archaeological remains of Ancient Corinth in order to consider how sacred places could have been created in the first century. Building on Philip Sheldrake's theory, among others, the book defines sacred place as a space with significance. Significance is found in the group's spiritual history, their identity, and the proper behaviours required to keep the group remaining a group.

Des poteries chasséennes : une étude de la céramique du Néolithique moyen en Languedoc oriental La abundancia de recursos naturales de la península ibérica atrajo a fenicios, griegos y cartagineses y es uno de los factores que explican el enfrentamiento entre Roma y Cartago en la Segunda Guerra Púnica. A medida que los romanos conquistaban amplias zonas del litoral mediterráneo y se expandían hacia el interior, implantaron formas de explotación intensiva de los recursos mineros, forestales, piscícolas y agropecuarios.

Elite Masculinity and Warfare in Cisalpine Gaul, c. 400-50 BCE : what it Means to be a Man

Lumsden, Alastair R.
1. ed.
Routledge, 2025
(Global Perspectives on Ancient Mediterranean Archaeology)
382 p.
9781032713250
263,40 €

This volume explores the relationship between how elite masculinity was expressed and warfare in Cisalpine Gaul between c. 400 and 50 BC.

The first half of the book demonstrates that material changes in funerary assemblages reflected broader socio-political and military developments. The second half of this study presents the first in-depth analysis of the organisational and tactical capabilities of infantry and cavalry forces in Cisalpine Gaul.

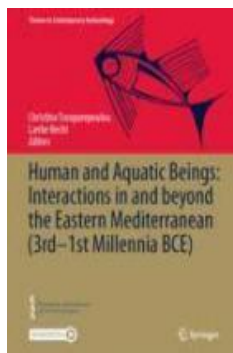

Et pourtant elle tourne! : blocages épistémologiques en archéologie

Fontana, Laure (dir.)
Beaune, Sophie A. de (dir.)
1. ed.
CNRS éditions, 2025
(Alpha)
214 p. ; 23x15 cm.
9782271154040
29,74 €

La légende prête à Galilée cette célèbre expression « Et pourtant elle tourne ! », lorsqu'il fut contraint devant l'Inquisition d'abjurer sa théorie selon laquelle c'est la Terre qui tourne autour du Soleil. Cette formule sert souvent à peindre la situation d'une personne qui semble renier ses convictions mais n'en pense pas moins.

Human and Aquatic Beings : Interactions in and beyond the Eastern Mediterranean (3rd-1st Millenia BCE)

Tsouparopoulou, Christina (ed.)
Recht, Laerke (ed.)
1. ed.
Springer, 2025
(Themes in Contemporary Archaeology)
xvii, 153 p.
9783031736421
139,79 €

This volume examines the role of fish and molluscs in everyday life as well as in terms of their impact on social structures, and as part of ideological and symbolic expression. Given the prevalence of and dependence on water in various forms in all regions of the Eastern Mediterranean, Egypt and Western Asia, it is no wonder that fish and other aquatic species made an impact on human lives. Yet this topic remains rather understudied.

I rituali di fondazione nel mondo etrusco tra Storia Romana e Archeologia : problemi di metodo e prospettiva storico-religiosa

Fogliazza, Silvia
1. ed.
Edizioni Quasar, 2025
(Le religioni e la storia ; 6)
272 p. ; 24x17 cm.
9788854915725
29,12 €

“I Rituali di fondazione nel mondo etrusco tra Storia Romana e Archeologia” offre un’indagine innovativa sui rituali che accompagnarono la nascita degli insediamenti etruschi, spesso oscurati dalla tradizione sulla fondazione di Roma. Basandosi su nuovi dati archeologici e un approccio storico-comparativo, il volume propone una rilettura metodologica che distingue le specificità etrusche dai modelli romani.

57,20 €

L'abri Murat (Rocamadour, Creysse) est un site majeur pour la connaissance des interactions entre les communautés humaines et non-humaines au cours du Paléolithique final. Après les premiers travaux réalisés par A. Lemozi au début du XX^e siècle, les fouilles menées par M. Lorblanchet au début des années 1980 ont permis de mettre au jour une archéostratigraphie exceptionnelle livrant une séquence dilatée de la transition Magdalénien – Azilien, qui fait l'objet de cet ouvrage collectif.

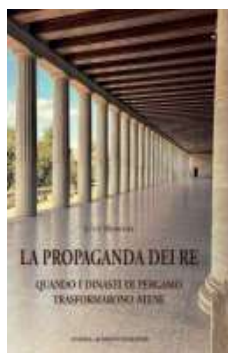

La Necropoli di Casale del Fosso : veio tra periodo Villanoviano e età Orientalizzante

Predan, Cecilia
1. ed.
Edizioni Quasar, 2025
(Scienze dell'Antichità ; 4)
640 p. ; 29x21 cm.
9788854915855
69,89 €

L'edizione integrale della necropoli di Casale del Fosso, con 294 tombe perlopiù ad inumazione, rappresenta un caso privilegiato di analisi del passaggio dal periodo villanoviano all'età orientalizzante a Veio. Il sepolcro vanta le sepolture di due illustri personaggi considerate rappresentative della “nascente aristocrazia tirrenica”, alle quali possono ora essere affiancate quelle riferibili ad altre figure emergenti di “donne, uomini e bambini” facenti parte delle prime élites locali.

La propaganda dei re : quando i dinasti di Pergamo trasformarono Atene

Mercuri, Luca
1. ed.
Erma di Bretschneider, 2025
(Studia Archaeologica ; 267)
212 p. ; 24x17 cm.
9788891334084
160,16 €

Il volume esamina la propaganda monumentale dei re di Pergamo ad Atene tra III e II secolo a.C., adottando un approccio archeologico, storico e topografico. Nell'arco di poco più di cinquant'anni, i dinasti attalidi trasformarono la città in un palcoscenico del proprio potere, ricollegandosi alla tradizione ateniese di lotta contro i barbari e al passato glorioso della città.

Prix Achard-Gardette 2024

Été 1940. La France, vaincue en quelques semaines par l'armée allemande, vient de signer un armistice qui, au-delà d'entériner la soumission du pays au régime nazi, a conféré l'autorité suprême au maréchal Pétain. Découlant indirectement du traité, le sort de l'Alsace-Lorraine semble scellé : les départements d'Alsace et de Moselle seront rapidement annexés au Reich.

Logistics in Greek Sanctuaries : exploring the Human Experience of Visiting the Gods

Scholarly study of ancient Greek sanctuaries has tended to focus on religion and ritual, monuments, deities, sacrifice, and topography. Logistics in Greek Sanctuaries takes a completely novel perspective by shifting the focus away from the religious sphere and monumental aspects of sanctuaries to practical activity and the experience of the human visitor. Close examination of the more mundane and everyday life and activity in Greek cult places, e.g.

96 p. ; 22x15 cm.
9781009506649
24,20 €

This Element highlights the employment within archaeology of classification methods developed in the field of chemometrics, artificial intelligence, and Bayesian statistics. These run in both high- and low-dimensional environments and often have better results than traditional methods. Instead of a theoretical approach, it provides examples of how to apply these methods to real data using lithic and ceramic archaeological materials as case studies.

Mothering and Archaeology : past and Present Perspectives

Seifert, Laura (ed.)
Spencer-Wood, Suzanne (ed.)
1. ed.
Routledge, 2025
394 p.
9780367762643
206,45 €

Mothering and Archaeology brings to light new insights connecting mothering in the past and present by exploring all aspects of this important but frequently under-valued and thus neglected subject and is underpinned by feminist theorizing of motherhood and mothering.

National-Socialist Archaeology in Europe and its Legacies

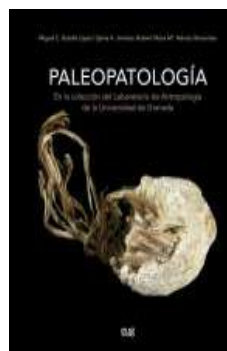

Eickhoff, Martijn (ed.) ... [et al.]
1. ed.
Springer, 2023
xi, 691 p.
9783031280238
172,23 €

This edited volume is dedicated to national-socialist archaeology as a Europe-wide phenomenon. It analyses national-socialist attempts to denationalize the archaeologies of European nations by creating a new unifying European archaeology on a racial basis.

From the beginning of the nineteenth century, archaeology began to develop into an important force behind processes of nation building.

En las colecciones del Laboratorio de Antropología de la Universidad de Granada se conserva el mayor conjunto de restos óseos humanos de España, que abarca desde el neolítico a la actualidad. Eso permite el estudio de distintos aspectos de la evolución humana desde muy dispares puntos de vista. Aquí se presentan algunos ejemplos, pocos en realidad, de la gran cantidad de huellas patológicas presentes en esas colecciones osteológicas.

Pergamon and Rome : culture, Identity, and Influence

Nelson, Thomas J. (ed.)
Pezzini, Giuseppe (ed.)

1. ed.
Oxford University Press, 2025
544 p. ; 24x17 cm.
9780198912040
203,60 €

This interdisciplinary volume provides the first comprehensive study of Rome's relationship with the kingdom and city of Pergamon. It surveys the rich and diverse interactions between these two cities from the late third century BCE to the fourth century CE, ranging across multiple cultural spheres (including art and architecture, history and politics, literature and poetry, philosophy and thought, scholarship and rhetoric).

Poverty and Plenty in Scandinavia and the North Atlantic : later Historical Archaeologies of Material Excess and Scarcity

Lucas, Gavin (ed.) ... [et al.]
1. ed.
Bloomsbury, 2025
256 p. ; 23x15 cm.
9781350455832
128,14 €

Examining the archaeological material of the modern period, over a period of the last 500 years, this open access book presents a series of case studies that challenges the fallacy of Nordic egalitarianism. The widening gap between rich and poor Western countries is now a well-known phenomenon and, while Scandinavia has often been hailed as one of the regions where inequality has been the lowest, even here a similar trend toward widening inequality has been observed.

(Elements in Current Archaeological Tools and Techniques)
84 p. ; 22x15 cm.
9781009592222
24,20 €

Provenance has been one of the major scientific applications in archaeology for a hundred years. The 'Golden Age' began in the 1950s, when large programmes were initiated focussing on bronzes, ceramics, and lithics. However, these had varying impact, ranging from wide acceptance to outright rejection. This Element reviews some of these programmes, mainly in Eurasia and North America, focussing on how the complexity of the material, and the effects of human behaviour, can impact on such studies.

Roman Identity and Lived Religion : Baptismal Art in Late Antiquity

Lenk, Stefanie

2025
(Greek Culture in the Roman World)
280 p. ; 25x17 cm.
9781009408653
128,14 €

Christianity is often considered prevalent when it comes to defining the key values of late antique society, whereas 'feeling connected to the Roman past' is commonly regarded as an add-on for cultivated elites. This book demonstrates the significant impact of popular Roman culture on the religious identity of common Christians from the fifth to the seventh century in the Mediterranean world. Baptism is central to the formation of Christian identity.

This book is a tribute to the remarkable achievements of Peter M.M.G. Akkermans in the archaeology of West Asia. A focus on previously overlooked periods and regions has been the hallmark of his work. Instead of investigating the traditional key transitions and core regions that have been central to the archaeology of West Asia, Peter always aimed to shed light on the 'in-between' periods and regions, often dismissed as being 'marginal' (in his words 'marginal to whom or what?').

The Athena Pronaia Tholos of Theodorus Phocaeus at Delphi : a Reconstruction Theory

Pizzigoni, Attilio
1. ed.
Erma di Bretschneider, 2025
(Studia Archaeologica ; 266)
228 p. ; 24x71 cm.
9788891334251
171,60 €

The book delves deeply into the origins and philosophical underpinnings of Ancient Greek architecture, specifically focusing on the structural and metaphysical aspects of the Tholos of Delphi. It explores how the Doric order and its tectonic logic form a foundational aspect of European architecture, tracing back to the Hellenic roots.

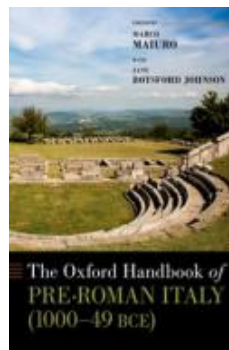

The eve of destruction? : Local groups and large-scale networks during the late fourth and early third millennium BC in central Europe

Hofmann, Daniela (ed.)
Mischka, Doris (ed.)
Scharl, Silviane (ed.)
1. ed.
Sidestone Press, 2025
300 p. ; 28x21 cm.

57,20 €

This volume collects papers on the pre-Corded Ware horizon in central Europe and adjacent areas (i.e. from c. 3500 – 2800 BC). This phase is very patchily researched, partly also because certain kinds of evidence, notably domestic architecture and burials, are rare or absent in many regions.

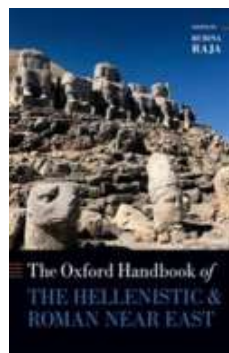

The Oxford Handbook of Pre-Roman Italy (1000-49 BCE)

Johnson, Jane Bostford
Maiuro, Marco (ed.)

The Near East during the Hellenistic and Roman periods has been studied for centuries. This Handbook includes fifty chapters written by experts from a variety of disciplines: archaeology (including classical, near eastern, and Islamic), ancient history, anthropology, art history, data and network science, epigraphy, and historiography. Together, these chapters shed a fresh light on the vast regions that made up Hellenistic and later Roman Syria and the Near East.

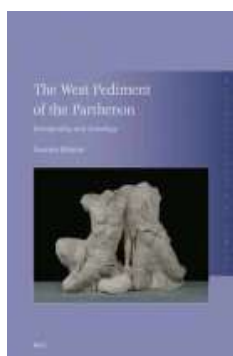

The Romanization of Britain : An Essay in Archaeological Interpretation

Millett, Martin
2. ed.
Cambridge University Press,
2025 (Cambridge Classical Classics)
290 p. ; 24x17 cm.
9781009485524
34,15 €

The Romanization of Britain was greeted, on first publication, as an innovative study of cultural change and interaction, offering a bold new perspective on Roman Britain based on archaeological evidence. It set out to explore the social dynamics of cultural change from a local perspective by looking at the patterns of interaction between provincial peoples and imperial power.

The West Pediment of the Parthenon : iconography and Iconology

Mitsios, Ioannis
1. ed.
Brill, 2025
(Monumenta Graeca et Romana ; 31)
xiv, 140 p.
9789004721883
171,97 €

This book offers a holistic study of the sculptures (and attributed fragments) of the west pediment of the Parthenon. For the very first time, the sculptures are examined in close relation to the drawings of the west pediment, as well as the iconography, myths, cults and topography of the Acropolis of Athens. The monograph offers nine new identifications, out of the fourteen heroic figures depicted on the west pediment of the Parthenon.

Nell'immaginario collettivo, il nome Tusculum rimanda inevitabilmente alla città di epoca romana, all'antiquissimum municipium di ciceroniana memoria. Immerso nella natura rigogliosa del Parco regionale dei Castelli Romani, per secoli le rovine di questo sito archeologico oggi abbandonato hanno attratto eruditi, letterati, viaggiatori del Grand Tour e semplici appassionati di storia e archeologia, che in questo luogo fuori dal tempo ritrovavano le radici di un lontano passato.

Una aproximación tipológica y tecnológica a las cerámicas paleoandalusíes y emirales de Ceuta

Nel quadro del rapporto fra uomo e ambiente nell'antichità un aspetto peculiare è costituito dalla relazione fra esseri umani e animali. Come mostra questo volume, si tratta di un tema attualissimo, ma osservabile già a molteplici livelli e sotto plurime forme anche nella vita quotidiana dell'età antica e medievale: allevamento e alimentazione, sacrificio e divinazione, caccia e guerra, spettacolo e ostentazione, magia e medicina, compagnia ed emotività.

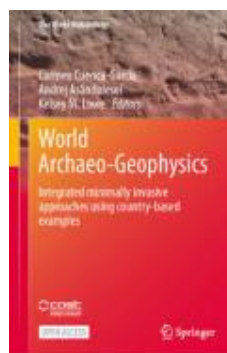

Worked Bone, Antler, Ivory, and Keratinous Materials

DiBattista, Adam
1. ed.
Cambridge University Press,
2025
(Elements in Current Archaeological Tools and Techniques)
102 p. ; 22x15 cm.
9781009181679
24,20 €

This Element addresses the study and documentation of objects made from the durable materials of animal bodies, including bone, antler, ivory, and keratinous tissues. This category of artifacts is common across cultures and regions, yet often escapes close study. The Element aims to be a guide to understanding and documenting worked animal objects for those without a background in zooarchaeology or experience with such artifacts.
