

FERRAN, O. / L. HILBINK, EDS.: LEGACIES OF VIOLENCE IN CONTEMPORARY SPAIN: EXHUMING THE PAST, UNDERSTANDING THE PRESENT

Prologue: Opening Graves to Restore Memory [José Antonio Martín Pallín]

Introduction: Legacies of Violence in Contemporary Spain [Ofelia Ferrán and Lisa Hilbink]

Part I: Mass Graves: "Unearthing" the Memories of Violence

1. Afterlives: A Social Autopsy of Mass Grave Exhumations in Spain [Francisco Ferrándiz]
2. The Spanish Civil War Forensic Labyrinth [Luis Ríos and Francisco Etxeberria]
3. Executed Women, Assassinated Women: Gender Repression in the Spanish Civil War and the Violence of the Rebels [Queralt Solé]
4. Beyond the Mass Grave: Producing and Remembering Landscapes of Violence in Francoist Spain [Alfredo González-Ruibal]

Part II: Political, Legislative and Judicial Responses to Past Violence

5. Rude Awakening: Franco's Mass Graves and the Decomposition of the Spanish Transition Dream [Ignacio Fernández de Mata]
6. Unsettling Bones, Unsettling Accounts: Spanish Perpetrators' Confessions to Violence [Paloma Aguilar and Leigh A. Payne]
7. Knocking on the Spanish Parliament's Door: The 2007 Law of Historical Memory and Its Aftermath [Rafael Escudero]
8. When You Wish Upon a Star: Baltasar Garzón and the Frustration of Legal Accountability for Franco-Era Crimes [Lisa Hilbink]

Part III: Cultural Representations of Violence

9. Poets of the Dead Society: The Cultural History of Francoist Mass Graves in the Pre-Democratic Poetic Archive [Germán Labrador Méndez]
10. Pasts in Conflict: Stylized Realism and its Discontents in Historical Memory Film [Carmen Moreno-Nuño]
11. Regarding Past Violence [Ofelia Ferrán]

Part IV: Interview with Baltasar Garzón

Truth, Reparation and Justice: Interview with Baltasar Garzón, Then Magistrate of the National High Court of Spain, Conducted 26 April, 2011, Minneapolis, MN [Ofelia Ferrán and Lisa Hilbink]

Epilogue: Memory Walks, Justice Awakes [Emilio Silva]

Pórtico