

Section I. Taking Up the Issues

Histories of Literature and the Question of Comparative Oral Literary History: Daniel F. Chamberlain

Levelling the Orality-Literacy Playing Field: Marcel Jousse's Laboratory of Awareness and the Oral-Literary Continuum: Edgard Sienaert

Modes of Discourse, Modes of Rationality: David R. Olson

Performing Writing and Singing Silence in the Anglo-Saxon Riddle Tradition: Andy Orchard

Section II. Listening Performances

In The Storyteller's House: Dan Yashinsky

The Game of the Little Secrets or How to Learn (and to Teach) Mechanisms of Orality: Paloma Díaz-Mas

Significant Spaces Between: Making Room for Silence: Daniel Heath Justice

The Story of Story and a Canon of Story: Stuart McHardy

Made for You and Me: Treaties with First Nations and the Settlement of Canada: Michael Asch

Section III. Stories of Storytelling

"Oral" in Literary History: The Case of Southern African Literatures: Michael Chapman

Making Space for the Spoken Word: Keavy Martin

Orality in Basque Literary Historiography: Jon Kortazar

The Ladder Holds Up the World Above: Lee Haring

Oral and Written Šukar Laviben of the Roma: The Beginning of a Romani Literary Historiography: Beate Eder-Jordan

Section IV. Communities in Comparative Encounters

Guaman Poma and His Traces: A Colonial Proposal to the Academic Debate Regarding Orality and Writing: Roberto Viereck Salinas

The Study of the Elements of Literary History of the Khoekhoe and Khomani Languages of Southern Africa: Levi Namaseb

The Stream of Khomani Stories: Neil Ten Kortenaar

The Puzzle of Voice: Oral Poetry and Literary Studies: Frederico Augusto Garcia Fernandes

Talking Technologies: Digital Poetry Meets Orality: María Teresa Vilariño Picos

References