

MICHAUD, F.: EARNING DIGNITY: LABOUR CONDITIONS AND RELATIONS DURING THE CENTURY OF THE BLACK DEATH IN MARSEILLE

Chapter 1: The acquisition of a trade, 'God willing': training in changing times (Apprenticing: arts' requirements and recruits' profile; Learning and living conditions; parental-master's relations)

Chapter 2: Craftsmen and Their Masters (Professional paths; origins of craftsmen; changing labour relations)

Chapter 3: Women, Work, and the Arts (Issue of female, contractual work; apprenticeship - conventional and non-conventional streams-; transformation toward domesticity)

Chapter 4: The Opportunities and Vicissitude of Servanthood (Toward a definition and historical development in Marseille after 1348; conditions of employment; power relations between masters and servants, and their evolution)

Chapter 5: Authority and Dependency: Master's Right, Servants' Plight (Litigants and litigations; post-plague developments: building tensions around wages, employment, and dignity)