

PARK, A., ED.: RESEMBLANCE AND REALITY IN GREEK THOUGHT. ESSAYS IN HONOR OF PETER M. SMITH

Paideia: By Sue Guiney

Contributors

Introduction: Resemblance and Reality as Interpretive Lens: By Arum Park and Mary Pendergraft

Part One. Poetry: Verbal Resemblance as Incomplete Reality

Chapter 1: Mētis on a Mission: Unreliable Narration and the Perils of Cunning in Odyssey: By Peter Aicher

Chapter 2: Little Things Mean a Lot: Odysseus' Scar and Eurycleia's Memory: By Jeffrey Beneker

Chapter 3: Failure of the Textual Relation: Anacreon's Purple Ball Poem (PMG 358): By T. H. M. Gellar-Goad

Chapter 4: Reality, Illusion, or Both? Cloud-Women in Stesichorus and Pindar: By Arum Park

Chapter 5: Neither Beast Nor Woman: Reconstructing Callisto in Callimachus' Hymn to Zeus: By Keyne Cheshire

Part Two. Greek Tragedy: Reality, Expectation, Tradition

Chapter 6: Necessity and Universal Reality: The Use of XPH in Aeschylus: By David C.A. Wiltshire

Chapter 7: The Arms of Achilles: Tradition and Mythmaking in Sophocles' Philoctetes: By Sheila Mumaghan

Chapter 8: The Bad Place: The Horrific House of Euripides' Heracles: By Derek Smith Keyser

Chapter 9: The "Hymn to Zeus" (Agamemnon 160-83) and Reasoning from Resemblances: By Edwin Carawan

Part Three. Greek Prose: Reality and Appearances

Chapter 10: Stereotypes as Faulty Resemblance: Humorous Deception and Ethnography in Herodotus: By Mark C. Mash

Chapter 11: The Rational Religion of Xenophon's Socrates: By David Johnson

Chapter 12: Wives, Subjects, Sons, and Lovers: Phthonos and Resemblance in Xenophon's Cyropaedia: By Norman Sandridge

Chapter 13: Performing Plato's Forms: By Patrick Lee Miller

Epilogue. Echoes of Resemblance and Reality in Latin Literature

Chapter 14: Thigh Wounds in Homer and Vergil: Cultural Reality and Literary Metaphor: By D. Felton