

QUINN, J. / M. A. CIPOLLA, EDS.: STUDIES IN THE TRANSMISSION AND RECEPTION OF OLD NORSE LITERATURE. THE HYPERBOREAN MUSE IN EUROPEAN CULTURE

Introduction — MARIA ADELE CIPOLLA and JUDY QUINN

I. The Transmission of Old Norse Literature Before and Between Manuscript Witnesses

Editing and Translating SnorraEdda: Some Observations on the Editorial History of Snorri's Ars Poetica — ADELE CIPOLLA

The Principles of Textual Criticism and the Interpretation of Old Norse Texts Derived from Oral Tradition — JUDY QUINN

Parsimony in Textual Criticism: On the Elimination of Intermediary Manuscripts — ODD EINAR HAUGEN

II. Adaptations of Old Norse Literature and their Influence

In Search of Amlóða saga: The Saga of Hamlet the Icelander — IAN FELCE

Ambleto: A Study of an Italian Libretto of the Eighteenth Century — MARCELLO ROSSI CORRADINI

Translations of Old Norse Poetry and the Lyric Novelties of Romanticism — MATS MALM

Hrólfr kraki from Sentimental Drama to Fantasy Fiction — TEREZA LANSING

Building up the Ties with the Past: August Strindberg and Starkaðr — MASSIMILIANO BAMPI

August Strindberg's remaking of Áns saga Bogsveigis — MARIA CRISTINA LOMBARDI

William Morris and the Poetic Edda — ALESSANDRO ZIRONI

Old Norse Myths and the Poetic Edda as Tools of Political Propaganda — JULIA ZERNACK (translated by MATTHIAS AMMON)

III. The Contemporary Reception of Old Norse Literature

A Place in Time: Old Norse Myth and Contemporary Poetry in English and Scots — HEATHER O'DONOGHUE

An Old Norse Manuscript to Die and Kill for: Viktor Amar Ingólfsson's Flateyjargáta — CHIARA BENATI
Amaldur Indriðason's Konungsbók: Literary history as MacGuffin, Or: Raiders of the Lost Örk —
CAROLYNE LARRINGTON
Sagas as Sequential Art: Some Reflections on the Translation of Saga Literature into Comics — FULVIO
FERRARI

Index of Names

Index of Old Norse Manuscripts