

Contents

Catrin Norrby, John Hajek, Heinz L. Kretzenbacher and Doris Schüpbach

Introduction: Exploring multilingualism and pluricentricity in diverse urban settings — 1

Part 1: Multilingual policies in practice

Doris Schüpbach and Claudine Brohy

1 Bilingualism, multilingualism and diglossia: A tale of two Swiss cities — 27

Marie Nelson and Sofie Henricson

2 The linguistic landscapes of Mariehamn and Kotka: A multilingual tale of local and national languages in Finland — 55

Zane Goebel

3 Unity, diversity and the market: Television representations of multilingual diversity in Jakarta — 81

Francesco Goglia

4 Multilingualism in Padua (Italy): The linguistic landscape of an emerging multiethnic neighbourhood — 99

Part 2: Attitudes and identities

John Hajek, Ambrin Hasnain and Carlie Hanson

5 Exploring the Italianità of Melbourne's Little Italy: Lygon Street, Carlton — 123

Daniel Kaufman

6 The Mixtec language in New York: Vitality, discrimination and identity — 147

Chloé Diskin-Holdaway

7 Second language identities among recently-arrived migrants in Dublin, Ireland — 173

Claudia Maria Riehl and Sara Ingrosso

8 “The northernmost city of Italy”: Italian immigrants in Munich — 199

Part 3: Language across time and space

Peter Trudgill and Jane Warren

9 Norwich across time: A city of strangers — 227

Bolormaa Shinjee and Sender Dovchin

10 The multilingual landscape of Ulaanbaatar, the capital city of Mongolia — 249

Anu Bissoonauth and Jane Warren

11 Urban multilingualism in Mauritius: Exploring linguistic and ethnic diversity in Port-Louis — 267

María Irene Moyna

12 Pluricentricity in Río de la Plata address: Montevideo is alike and a little different — 291

Heinz L. Kretzenbacher, Doris Schüpbach, John Hajek and Catrin Norrby

Conclusion: Looking back and looking forward — 321

Biographical notes — 333

Index — 337