

Contents

Acknowledgments — XI

Illustrations — XIII

Abbreviations — XV

Introduction: Rethinking the Body Politic — 1

Chapter 1

Seeing: Royal Frailty at the Court of Charles II of Spain (1690s–1700) — 20

Introduction: Trust — 20

I The Social Setting of Seeing — 22

II What Stanhope Saw — 33

III What Stanhope Did Not See — 47

Conclusion: Observing Observers — 56

Chapter 2

Healing: Stuart Princely Ailments and the Politics of Medical Opinion (1700–1714) — 60

Introduction: Healing's Pitfalls — 60

I The Politicization of Healing Practices — 62

II Radcliffe: The Death of Gloucester — 77

III Hamilton: The Queen's Reproductive Crisis — 89

Conclusion: Political Physicians — 99

Chapter 3

Writing: The British Succession Question in the Holy Roman Empire (1701) — 103

Introduction: An Unsettling Act — 103

I Form and Timing in Epistolary Ceremonial — 106

II Forming the Act of Settlement in Hanover — 123

III Forging Notifications in Vienna — 133

Conclusion: Ceremonial Locks and Paper Keys? — 146

Chapter 4

Interacting: Contagion in Bourbon France and the Making of Dynastic Crisis (1711/2 – 1716) — 149

Introduction: On Shifting Grounds? — 149

I Careers and Courtly Interaction in Times of Dynastic Death — 152

II Creating a Crisis in Scribal Newsletters — 165

III The Effects of Crisis-Talk on Interaction at Utrecht — 176

Conclusion: Frailty and Interaction — 189

Chapter 5

Feeling: The Health of Habsburg Heirs, and the Emotional Empire (1692 – 1716) — 192

Introduction: Ill Informed — 192

I Papers of Joy: Emotions in the Holy Roman Empire — 195

II Voices of Joy: Emotions at Court — 208

III The Heir's Life Cycle in Lived Experience — 219

Conclusion: An Empire of Feeling — 232

Conclusion: Destiny, Disease, and Dynasty — 235

I Fate and Planning in Early Modern Politics — 235

II Royal Frailty in Early Modern News Circuits — 242

III The Role of Dynasty in European History — 246

IV The Hidden Archive of Princely Corporeality — 249

V Corporeality and the Political — 251

Works and Sources Cited — 254

Archival Collections — 254

Newspapers and Periodicals — 255

Printed Primary Sources — 256

Secondary Literature — 260

Appendices — 289

Appendix 1: Letter Concerning the Young Louis XV (German/English): — 289

Appendix 2: Life Expectancy of Habsburg Royal Children (1640 – 1780) — 292

Appendix 3: Life Expectancy of Stuart Royal Children (1629 – 1700) — 294

Appendix 4: Life Expectancy of Bourbon Royal Children (1601 – 1774) — 297

Appendix 5 — 299

Appendix 6 — 301

Appendix 7: Remuneration for Select Members of the Dauphine's Household — 302

Appendix 8 (a): Illnesses and Deaths (during the 1711 smallpox-outbreak) — 305

Appendix 8 (b): Illnesses and Deaths (during the 1712 measles-outbreak): — 308

Appendix 9: Forms of Celebration as reported in the Wienerisches Diarium (1716, the date refers to the issue) — 313

Index of Persons — 317

