

Contents

Preface — IX

Acknowledgments — XI

List of Figures — XXI

List of Text Boxes — XXIII

Introduction — 1

The medieval background — 9

The argument — 24

Section I: Baroque Europe: The Bible Tells Me So

Chapter 1

Introit: The Wife's Sister — 31

A European problem — 34

Making church law — 38

Affinity and its challenges — 45

The nature and purpose of marriage — 53

Marriage among allies: A seventeenth-century argument — 55

German scandals — 59

The slow death of affinal prohibitions — 64

Excursus. Incestuous sheets from Hamlet to Phèdre — 71

Chapter 2

The Culture of Law — 82

Divine and natural law — 89

Setting the agenda — 93

A discourse of law — 96

Natural law and voluntarism — 98

Lawgiving secularized — 108

Chapter 3

How to Read the Book — 124

An overview of leviticus 18 — 126

German protestants reformulate the law — 131

Post-Tridentine hermeneutics — 137

The hermeneutics of Sola Scriptura — 139

Doubts about the unity of the Leviticus list — 148
Uncoupling Scripture from modern statecraft — 153

Chapter 4

Cultural Meanings of Blood in the Baroque — 160
Biblical and classical sources for flesh and blood — 166
Protestant theological reflections on flesh, blood, incest, and social reproduction — 169
Blood, seed, and confusion: the wife's sister versus brother's wife — 172
Fungible blood and paternal idea: Appropriations of Aristotle — 174
Jesus's blood, Mary's blood: Catholic theologians consider lineage and alliance — 176
Literature and the blood of heredity and alliance — 190
Conclusion. Reproducing the lineage — 202

Chapter 5

Lineage and Alliance in the Seventeenth Century — 205
Lineages depend on allies to grow and prosper — 209
Agnatic descent and the rise of lineage thinking in the early modern period — 212
Linking lineages: Guaranteeing status, providing clients — 223
Systemic practices of alliance: Operationalizing in-laws — 227
Using kin: Expectations for service, assumptions of obligation — 234
Ascription vs. negotiation: Women mediate relations — 236
Conclusion — 239

Section II: From Enlightenment to Romanticism: Sentimental Journeys

Chapter 1

Kinship: The New Alliance System — 245
Reordering kinship: New forms of alliance — 246
Cousin marriage the new norm — 250
Endogamy, milieu, and class — 254
Middle-class kinship practices — 258
Reconfiguring the "house" — 269
Houses during the Sattelzeit — 274
Conclusion — 280

Chapter 2

Introduction to the Brother/Sister Imaginary — 284
A novelist negotiates the sister/wife/lover boundaries — 286
Brother/Sister: A central literary theme — 293
A poet courts a sister, a lover, and a brother-in-law — 294

- A musician longs for/to be her brother — 303
- A son and the double death of the father — 309
- A poet and the “pleasures of illicitness” — 319
- A novelist on siblings and lovers — 329
- Conclusion — 333

Chapter 3

Moral Sentiment: A New Language of Cultural Meaning and Foundation for Law — 337

- Happiness, sentiment, order — 339
- The morals of civil society — 347
- Moral sentiment and representations of incest — 348
- Inbreeding vs. incest: New considerations — 351
- Lessons from horse breeding — 356
- Objections to the argument from degeneration — 359
- An argument for exogamy — 361
- Reconstructing the foundations of incest prohibitions — 363
- Conclusion — 369

Chapter 4

The Search for the Same: Familial/Familiar — 371

- How is kinship made? — 373
- Same and other: The evocation of desire — 374
- Goethe, Bildung, and sex — 376
- Like with like: Assortative mating — 382
- Marriage and sexual attraction — 389
- Kinship and milieu — 393
- Conclusion — 396

Section III: Fin-et-Début-de-Siècle Europe and America

Chapter 1

Introduction to the Problem of the Mother and Son — 405

- Mother as text — 409
- Mother as lawgiver — 413
- A middle stage between man and child — 418
- Sons and mothers — 421
- Love and sexuality — 430
- Sons and mothers at war — 437
- Rage against mothers — 444
- Law, fusion, and the symbolic order — 448

Chapter 2

The Biology of Motherhood — 451

Medical science views the female — 458

Shocking opinions (or maybe just irritating) — 464

The nature of the sexual — 465

Sexuality and reproduction: The female purpose — 467

Someone even more irritating than Weininger — 469

Psychoanalysis and sexology — 470

Feminist discourses — 478

Conclusion — 484

Chapter 3

Making Kin around 1900: The Nature of Nurture — 487

The nurturing mother from conception to cradle to grave — 491

Coupling, gatekeeping, matrilocality — 502

Unboundedness, fusion — 505

Sexuality and reproduction, male and female sexuality different things — 511

Mother and son as a sexual pairing — 513

Conclusion — 519

Chapter 4

Kinship Structures at the Turn of the Century — 521

Structural features: Lineage — 523

Structural features: Endogamy — 532

Siemens family practices — 536

Matrilocality — 537

Conclusion — 547

Excursus. Tales from Trollope and Fontane — 549

Intermezzo

Incest Becomes a Biological Problem — 559

Physicians worry cousin marriage — 562

Consanguinity vs. heredity — 575

Mendelian hypotheses and monogenic diseases — 586

Reconfiguring the issues — 590

The rules of heredity — 593

Risks for populations, risks for individuals — 605

Beyond Mendel — 616

Evolutionary biology: Inbreeding and outbreeding — 618

Sociobiology and ethology on kin avoidance — 623

Molecular biology takes on endogamy — 632

Conclusion — 655

Glossary — 657

Section IV: Postwar Kinning: The Fall (After a Brief Rise) of the Nuclear Family

Chapter 1

Kinship and the Nuclear Family — 663

Marriage and alliance construction — 667

Intergenerational transfers — 682

The ephemeral and elusive “nuclear family model”: Demographic trends — 686

Reflections on the nuclear family — 706

Challenges to the model — 720

Conclusion — 733

Excursus. Some demographic data — 735

Chapter 2

The Family Spun in a Web of Power — 751

Who wins? Social analysis and democratic goals — 753

Power and psychotherapy — 762

The mothers — 766

From patriarchalism to patriarchy — 773

Patriarchy and incest — 781

Conclusion — 788

Chapter 3

Introduction to the Father-Daughter Problematic — 789

Older men — 796

Mother as daughter, daughter as mother — 800

Sexualized home life — 806

Father to the center — 811

Self-help groups fixate on fathers — 820

(Sub)plotting a life — 827

Chapter 4

Psychoanalysis and Psychotherapy as Hegemonic Discourses — 834

Fathers and daughters: A mental health problem? — 841

Symptoms reveal a life story — 845

Adolescent sexuality in the postwar decades — 852

Expanding the notion of incest — 855
Consciousness raising — 858
The rhetorics of numbers — 863
Suspicion — 868
Memories repressed, fragmented, subjective — 874
Mediated memories and plots — 878
Recovered memories: A novel grotesquerie — 884
The tide turns — 893
Conclusion — 901

Coda. Brother/Sister Redivivus

Age of Genetics, Age of Siblings, 1995–2020 — 909
The proliferation of family and kinship forms — 910
Dressing up kinship: Finding comfortable genes to fit — 929
Brothers and sisters in the social imaginary: Erotics and dangers of incest — 946
Genetics takes on a model organism: Siblings — 961

Epilogue

Near of Kin — 975
Incest and social reproduction: The problem of intimacy — 979

Figure Credits — 989

Bibliography — 993

Index — 1049