

Contents

Notes on spelling, names, and translations — V

Acknowledgements — VII

Introduction: ‘sea power’ and other concepts — 1

Structure — 5

Chapter One

Setting the scene: geography, environment, navigation, and fishing — 9

Geography — 9

Environmental conditions — 11

Weather — 14

Navigation — 17

Sailing season — 22

Natural resources — 29

Conclusion — 32

Chapter Two

Wooden walls: ships and naval organisation — 34

Naval organisation — 34

Ships and ship design — 38

Personnel — 43

Infrastructure — 46

Finance and wealth — 48

Conclusion — 51

Chapter Three

The ship of state: Greek maritime consciousness — 52

Myth and epic — 53

Tragedy — 61

Comedy — 64

History and philosophy — 67

Herodotus, Xenophon, and Diodorus — 68

Dissenting voices — 71

Conclusions — 77

Chapter Four

The birth of navies – sixth-century Greece — 78

Thucydides — 83

Chapter Five

Divine Salamis: the Persian Wars — 87

The Ionian rebellion — 87

The (Persian) empire strikes back — 90

Chapter Six

Rulers of the sea: Athens and the Delian League — 101

Walls of wood and stone — 101

The ‘Old Oligarch’ — 104

The pentekontaetia — 108

Athens and the Delian League — 112

Conclusion — 115

Chapter Seven

The great war: the Peloponnesian war from Corcyra to Sicily — 117

Crisis in Corcyra — 117

War at sea — 119

The strategy of Pericles and his successors — 121

War in the east and west — 131

Pushing the limits — 135

The ‘Peace’ of Nicias — 138

Conclusion — 140

Chapter Eight

The triumph of sea power: Sicily and the Ionian War — 141

The Sicilian expedition — 141

Spartan strategy 413–404 — 146

Conclusion — 159

Chapter Nine

No easy thing: the fall of Spartan sea power and Athens’ return — 161

Spartan strategy 404–370s — 161

Sicily and Italy — 171

Maritime Athens in the fourth century — 174

Conclusion — 180

Chapter Ten

Aegean awakening: Thebes, war in the North, and the rise of Macedon — 181

- Epaminondas and the Theban navy — 183
- Athens, the Second Athenian League, and northern Greece — 187
- Athens and conflict with Philip — 191
- The economic dimension — 197
- Conclusion — 200

Chapter Eleven

The lessons of sea power — 202

- Non-hegemonic sea power — 202
- Corinth — 203
- Corcyra — 205
- Leucas — 208
- Aegina — 210
- Chios — 211
- Enablers and the trinity of maritime operations — 213
- Military operations — 215
- Diplomatic operations — 218
- Constabulary operations — 220

Conclusion — 222

Appendix 1

Glossary of terms — 225

Appendix 2

Database of maritime operations — 231

Bibliography — 251

Index — 265

