Alexandre Farnèse : prince et capitaine (1545-1592)

Poncet, Olivier
1. ed.
Perrin, 2025
(Biographie)
360 p. ; 24x15 cm.
9782262085902
28,60 €

La biographie du plus grand capitaine de son époque. La destinée d'Alexandre Farnèse, né à Rome en 1545 et mort à Arras en 1592, s'inscrit dans l'histoire d'une Europe divisée par les conflits confessionnels postérieurs à la Renaissance dont il fut un acteur majeur, de la Méditerranée aux bords du Rhin, de l'Angleterre à la France.

An Unholy Pedagogy : Visions of Learning from Mesoamerica, 1300-1650

Fitzgerald, Joshua Jacob
1. ed.
Cambridge University Press,
2026
(Cambridge Latin American studies)
336 p. ; 22x15 cm.
9781009702577
135,26 €

The traumatic Spanish invasion of Mesoamerica, and the Ibero-Catholic colonialism that followed, truly transformed Indigenous political, economic, and socio-cultural practices. Confronted by dogmatic European literary regimes, strident indoctrination, and acts of structural violence, how could 'Aztec' education have survived in colonial times?

Arte y poder en la monarquía de España : discurso político y simbólico de las exequias de Felipe IV

Rodríguez Arbeteta, Benito
1. ed.
Dykinson, 2026
278 p. ; 24x17 cm.
9791370470777
28,00 €

La obra combina un relato claro y ameno para el público en general con un enfoque riguroso y original que aporta interés al ámbito académico. Ofrece una lectura distinta de una efeméride bien conocida, abordándola desde una perspectiva diferente a la tradicional. Esta fusión entre historia, arte y teoría política, propone un análisis transversal sobre un momento preciso, la muerte de Felipe IV en 1665, momento de crisis y transición.

Cet ouvrage collectif, réunissant des contributions issues de communications au séminaire " Corpus Feminae " (projet innovant soutenu par la Sorbonne Nouvelle en 2020-2023), interroge la construction d'une auctorialité féminine dans l'Europe moderne (XVIe-XVIIIe siècles) en s'intéressant aux spécificités matérielles des écrits féminins pris au sens large: textes littéraires, paratextes, écrits du for privé, lettres, méditations, qu'ils soient véhiculés par la publication imprimée, la circulation

Da pater familias a buon pastore : amministrare il patrimonio ecclesiastico nei Regni mediterranei della Corona spagnola

Pilo, Rafaella (ed.)
1. ed.
Viella, 2026
(I libri di Viella ; 584)
164 p. ; 21x15 cm.
9791257011475
29,12 €

Sin dalla prima età moderna, la documentazione prodotta dalla Chiesa diventò significativa tanto dal punto di vista qualitativo che, soprattutto, quantitativo. In seguito al cospicuo aumento delle ricchezze, gli enti ecclesiastici dovettero spesso far ricorso alle consulenze di banchieri e mercanti, considerate figure di esperti nel settore dell'amministrazione del patrimonio.

Delivering Knowledge : Jewish Midwives and Hidden Healing in Early Modern Europe

Katz, Jordan R.
1. ed.
Stanford University Press,
2026 (Stanford Studies in Jewish History and Culture)
288 p. ; 22x15 cm.
9781503646391
32,73 €

This book offers a new perspective on the history of early modern Jewish communities by centering the experiences of Jewish midwives. In the wake of the Thirty Years' War, as cities and towns across northern and central Europe placed new emphasis on the regulation of healthcare and childbirth, Jewish midwives stood at the crossroads of tremendous changes in both Jewish communities and the surrounding Christian municipalities.

La conformación y puesta en marcha de los virreinos americanos y la consolidación de las rutas marítimas, primero desde Sevilla y más tarde desde Cádiz, permitieron el intercambio continuo de mercancías y pasajeros entre España y sus posesiones de Ultramar. Algunos indios, en busca de mejores oportunidades, recalaban en América consiguiendo ascender a las esferas más elevadas del poder político o religioso y acumulando fortunas de diverso calado.

Early Modern Overseas Careers : East-Central Europeans as Jesuit Missionaries and Dutch East India Employees

Chabrowski, Igor Iwo (ed.)
Królikowska-Jedlinska,
Natalia (ed.)
1. ed.
CEU Press, 2025
(Global Easts)
236 p. ; 23x15 cm.
9789633868829
158,04 €

In the early modern period, two European networks, the Society of Jesus and the Dutch East India Company (VOC) spanned the globe and contributed to its multifaceted globalization. This book focuses on the members of the former, Jesuit missionaries, and the employees of the Dutch trading firm originating from Central and Eastern Europe. The well-chosen case studies examine the group characteristics, career influences, and narratives of these Central Eastern Europeans.

Empire of Manners : Ottoman Sociability and War-Making in the Long Eighteenth Century

Grehan, James
1. ed.
Stanford University Press,
2025
(Stanford Ottoman World Series: Critical Studies in Empire, Nature, and Knowledge)
362 p. ; 22x15 cm.
9781503643727
38,43 €

It is easy to believe that manners are empty gestures, little more than social artifice or practiced etiquette whose sole purpose is to project civility and facilitate social interaction. But if we look more closely, they can tell us much more than we might first suppose, revealing what conventional accounts of state, economy, and religion often ignore.

Empires of Slavery : Rights and Power in the Early Modern Iberian World

Allemann, Daniel
1. ed.
Brill, 2026
(Max Planck Studies in Global
Legal History of the Iberian Worlds ; 7)
xii, 286 p. ; 23x15 cm.
9789004760585
130,08 €

Enslavement was central to the early modern Iberian empires. No one at the time seriously questioned its legality, yet widespread reports of violent practices of captivity and human trafficking contrasted sharply with the Christian ideal of charity. This volume explores how Spanish and Portuguese theologians, jurists, and missionaries grappled with this moral dilemma. These thinkers developed ideological tools to protect the souls of those who appeared to be in a state of mortal damnation.

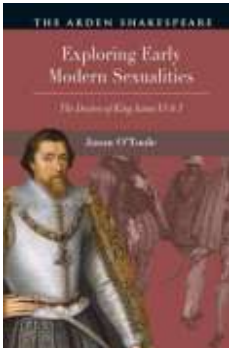

En famille franciscaine : hommes et femmes, réguliers et séculiers : France, XVIe-XVIIe siècles

Dykinson, 2026
(Distinción y privilegio)
351 p. ; 24x17 cm.
9791370064082
30,00 €

Generaciones es una herramienta de análisis que aporta explicaciones sobre individuos que comparten un momento histórico, sin que ello suponga coincidencia en las experiencias, visión del mundo o una forma de actuar colectiva. En nuestro caso, la categoría se aplica a tres generaciones familiares de influyentes españoles coetáneos a los que les tocó vivir el periodo de cambios, tensiones e incertidumbres que prelude el agrietamiento del Antiguo Régimen (entre 1760 y 1840).

Histoire des Jésuites : d'Ignace de Loyola au pape François

Bled, Jean-Paul
1. ed.
Éditions Tallandier, 2026
320 p. ; 20x14 cm.
9791021055834
27,34 €

Fondée en 1534 à Montmartre par le prêtre espagnol Ignace de Loyola, la Compagnie de Jésus s'est montrée, dès ses origines, d'un dynamisme et d'une force missionnaire ininterrompus. Cet ordre, encore présent sur tous les continents, a largement contribué à façonner le monde tel que nous le connaissons.

I cardinali protettori delle corone e le arti in età moderna

Corswarem, Émilie (ed.)
Roma, Aldo (ed.)

308 p. ; 21x15 cm.
9791254698976
37,27 €

Questo volume indaga le pratiche mecenatistiche dei cardinali protettori delle corone in età moderna per esplorare come committenza, protezione e clientelismo interagissero con le specificità del loro status e delle loro funzioni, operando all'intersezione tra corte pontificia e monarchie nazionali.

Ibero-Dutch Imperial Entanglements in the Seventeenth Century : Geopolitical Shifts in Global Perspective

Mitchell, Silvia Z. (ed.)
Heinsen-Roach, Erica (ed.)
1. ed.
Palgrave, 2025
(New Transculturalisms, 1400-1800)
xxv, 396 p.
9783031615221
161,42 €

This book explores the entanglements among Spain, Portugal, and the Dutch Republic during the seventeenth century from a global perspective. It offers a compelling analysis of how Ibero-Dutch relations shifted from violence and conflict—during the Iberian Union (1580–1640) and the Dutch quest for independence (1579–1648)—into collaboration and coexistence in the century's second half.

Éditions Tallandier, 2026
(Texte)
312 p. ; 18x12 cm.
9791021068186
12,01 €

Les corsaires ont toujours fait rêver ! Au-delà de leurs exploits sur les mers, ils fascinent par leur esprit de liberté absolue, leur patriotisme héroïque et leur sens du commerce. L'écrivain de marine Dominique Le Brun retrace leur fantastique histoire dans une perspective inédite.

Bien sûr, il y a Surcouf qui accéda de son vivant au statut de légende, Jean Bart qui sauva le royaume de la famine, ou encore Duclos-Guyot qui accomplit des missions secrètes au Canada.

Les noblesses transnationales : en Europe (XIIIe-XXe siècle)

9782379061318
26,31 €

En 1706, dans la mission de San Cosme y Damian, des artisans guaranis installent au sommet du clocher le télescope dont ils viennent d'achever la construction sous la direction du Père jésuite Buenaventura Suarez. Il s'agit du premier modèle entièrement fabriqué en Amérique du Sud. Un an auparavant, dans le cadre de la mission Loreto, d'autres artisans guarani construisent la première imprimerie américaine.

Marie de Médicis : une européenne à la mode du XVIIe siècle

Constant, Jean-Marie
1. ed.
Perrin, 2026
304 p. ; 20x13 cm.
9782262104986
25,17 €

Et si la régence de Marie de Médicis (1610-1617) avait été, non un temps de faiblesse et de chaos, mais l'un des plus libres et brillants du XVIIe siècle ?

Longtemps jugée sévèrement par la tradition historique, la régence de Marie de Médicis (1575-1642) mérite aujourd'hui un nouveau regard. Cet essai propose une réévaluation profonde de cette période charnière du XVIIe siècle, à la lumière de nouvelles recherches et d'interprétations inédites de sa politique.

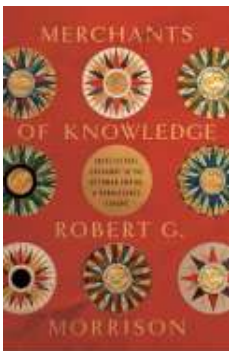

Mercanti di piante : invenzioni e mode nella rivoluzione dei vivai

Stanford University Press,
2025
(Stanford Ottoman World Series: Critical Studies in Empire, Nature, and Knowledge)
342 p. ; 22x15 cm.
9781503642683
38,43 €

Bridge Book Award 2025

Between 1450 and 1550, a remarkable century of intellectual exchange developed across the Eastern Mediterranean. As Renaissance Europe depended on knowledge from the Ottoman Empire, and the courts of Mehmed the Conqueror and Bayezid II greatly benefitted from knowledge coming out of Europe, merchants of knowledge—multilingual and transregional Jewish scholars—became an important bridge among the powers.

Music, Rhetoric and Christian Hebraism in Early Modern Europe : Reuchlin's Reconstruction of the Modulata Recitatio

Kim, Hyun-Ah
1. ed.
Amsterdam University Press,
2025
406 p. ; 23x15 cm.
9789048565108
235,80 €

This book presents the first in-depth exploration of the relationship between music, rhetoric and Christian Hebraism, by re-appraising the significance of the “first German humanist” Johannes Reuchlin’s study of Kabbalah and cantillation in the light of Renaissance rhetoric.

Few studies have investigated how Renaissance humanists learned Hebrew language for the delivery (pronuntiatio) of the Hebrew Bible as an aural-oral tradition.

Overlooked Places and Peoples : Indigenous and African Resistance in Colonial Spanish America, 1500-1800

Velasco Murillo, Dana (ed.)

Pregnant Women's Sexuality in Early Modern England

Donaghy, Paige
1. ed.
Palgrave, 2025
(Genders and Sexualities in History)
ix, 163 p. ; 21x15 cm.
9783032056511
53,26 €

Pregnant women in the past had sex, yet we know nearly nothing about their sexual desires, or what people thought about sex during pregnancy. While there is much research on the sexual maternal body, studies of pregnancy and sex are lacking. This Palgrave Pivot provides the first history of pregnant women's sexuality in England from 1550 to 1800, with discussion of Northern European perspectives on pregnancy sex.

Scrutinizing the Devil's Plots : Magic, Witchcraft, and Inquisition (14th-20th Centuries)

Bueno, Irene (ed.)
Lavenia, Vincenzo (ed.)
Parmeggiani, Riccardo (ed.)
1. ed.
Viella, 2026
(I libri di Viella ; 591)
452 p. ; 21x15 cm.
9791257012021
45,43 €

This volume revisits one of early modern Europe's most emblematic episodes of witch-hunting – the trials held between 1587 and 1589 in Liguria – and situates it within the broader history of repression, belief, and judicial culture across the Alpine region and the Latin Christian world.

Grounded on original archival research and comparative perspectives, it explores how the Inquisitions confronted and conceptualised witchcraft from the late Middle Ages onwards.

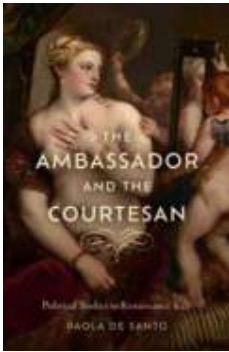

Strangers Within : The Rise and Fall of the New Christian Trading Elite

Bethencourt, Francisco
1. ed.
Princeton University Press,
2026
624 p. ; 23x15 cm.
9780691256818
35,60 €

In Strangers Within, Francisco Bethencourt provides the first comprehensive history of New Christians, the descendants of Jews forced to convert to Catholicism in late medieval Spain and Portugal. Bethencourt estimates that there were around 260,000 New Christians by 1500—more than half of Iberia's urban population. The majority stayed in Iberia but a significant number moved throughout Europe, Africa, the Middle East, coastal Asia and the New World.

This volume posits that clothing in the early modern period was conceived of as the prime interface between the human body and its multiple environments. Both a second skin and a human-made artefact, dress can indeed be considered as the most immediate site for the elaboration of any sort of ecology, in its etymological sense of a 'discourse' of the oikos, or of the place we inhabit.

In Renaissance Italy, the gun was not only a tool of war but also a desirable object, a luxury item carried at court. Guns were in use on the battlefield by 1440; later in that century Leonardo da Vinci sketched a design for a faster-firing, more portable handgun that could be hidden beneath a cloak. As the gun proliferated in society, it became both a means of self-defence and a threat to civic order.

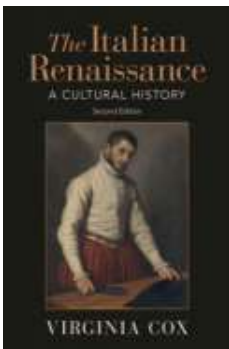

The First Asians in the Americas : A Transpacific History

Between 1565 and 1815, the so-called Manila galleons monopolized trade between Spain's Asian and American colonies. Sailing from the Philippines to Mexico and back, these Spanish ships also facilitated the earliest migrations and displacements of Asian peoples to the Americas. Hailing from Gujarat, Nagasaki, and many places in between, both free and enslaved Asians made the treacherous transpacific journey each year.
